ITALIAN WAR MATTER OF HOURS

GERMAN REPLY WILL BE READY THIS FRIDAY

First Draft of Answer Was Submitted to Chancellor Who Suggested
Some Changes.

(Special to The Herald)

Berlin, via Amsterdam, May 19.—Herr von Jagow, Foreign Secretary, submitted today to Chancellor von Bethmann-Hollweg, a preliminary draft of Germany's reply to the American note on the subject of submarine warfare. The chancellor suggested some changes and the aerial draft will be submitted to a ministerial council on Thursday. The reply will probably be issued this Friday unless unforeseen developments arise to change the German plans.

The evening newspapers are in marked contrast to those issued this morning, most of them angrily condemning the American attitude and urging the government to answer the note from Washington with "firm defiance."

Forecasting the reply to the American note the same official "Zettung," stated today that Germany would make three counter demands on the United States. One—that it shall insist on British merchant vessels admit their carrying of munitions.

Two—that England must cease to arm her merchant vessels.

Three—insist that England refrain from carrying contrabands of war upon vessels which have American passengers aboard.

"If America does do this," the Zettung adds, "America will find Germany on her side in the endeavor to make the submarine warfare more humane. If America fails to influence Great Britain, America must put up with the present situation."

The Gazette said that the American note would not be expected to sway the German government one hair's breadth from her plans while the Dagbladet says that the submarine campaign must continue as a matter of course.

Railroads and Stations in Hands of Military Authorities--Austro-Ger- man Ambassadors Sent Bag- gage Across Frontier

(Special to The Herald)

Paris, May 19.—The French government has received information that diplomatic relations between Italy and the Austro-German alliance will be severed tomorrow. A message by special courier from the French embassy at Rome states that when the Italian parliament meets Premier Salandra will present the "Green Book," giving the causes of the diplomatic ruptures. Prince von Buelow and Baron von Macchio will leave Rome at once.

(Special to The Herald)

Rome, May 19.—Communications with Trieste, the principal seaport of Austria, was cut off today. Full responsibility for the approaching war with Austria will be placed on the Dual Monarchy in the "Green Book" which Premier Salandra has gotten out. The document contains all the diplomatic conversations that have passed between the German and Austrian ambassadors and the Italian foreign office and also copies of messages bearing on international relations and the foreign policies of Italy.

All railroads and railroad stations have been taken over by the military authorities today under royal decree. The military establishment now has full power to prevent any persons suspected of hostile leanings from leaving Italy.

London, May 19.—Dispatches from Rome to the Evening News state that the baggage of both the German and the Austrian ambassadors at Italy has been carried across the frontier without examination by officials and that the members of the Austro-German staffs have received their passports.

AMERICAN EMBASSY TO HAVE CHARGE OF GERMAN AND AUSTRIAN INTERESTS IN ITALY

(Special to The Herald)

Rome, May 19.—Thomas Nelson Page, American ambassador to Italy, will take charge of the interests of Germany and Austria when Prince Von Buelow and Baron Von Macchio leave Italy. Arrangements to this end are said to have been made through the United States State Department at Washington.

The departure of the German and Austrian ambassadors will not long be delayed. Attaches of the two embassies have already left, but Prince Von Buelow informed the International News Service correspondent that he would not quit Rome until after parliament reconvenes. He has apparently abandoned hope of Italy remaining neutral.

BRITISH STEAMER BOUND FOR UNITED STATES, SINKS

(Special to The Herald)

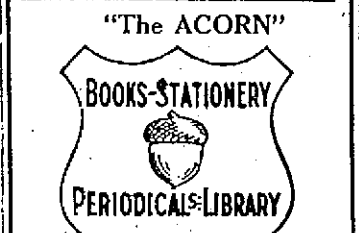

Cardiff, May 19.—The British steamer Drumceir has been torpedoed and sunk by a German submarine. Its crew was saved. She was a ship of 4652 tons belonging to the Austral Shipping Company, and was torpedoed on Tuesday while bound from Barry to Texas, in ballast. Her crew was picked up by a Norwegian steamer, which landed the sailors at Cardiff today.

fully understood, the License Commission has issued another document from Concord.

Last week the License Commission issued an order prohibiting the bartenders from treating customers. It is understood that since that time the free disposition of booze in some of the saloons of the city has been taken in charge by the proprietors themselves.

Monday the commission issued a supplementary order prohibiting the proprietors from treating, and the supply of the liquors received by the thirsty without money and without price through the munificence of the house has at length been cut off.

Many of the proprietors welcome the order, and consider it the wisest move in the way of promoting temperance that the commission has ever made.

EXPECT BIG SHAKEUP

In British Cabinet as Result of Difficulties Between Heads of Admiralty.

(Special to The Herald)

London, May 19.—The critical situation which has developed in the British cabinet as a result of difficulties between the heads of the Admiralty over England's naval policy, all but overshadowed actual news of hostilities today.

Premier Asquith held conferences with leaders of the Unionists and Liberal parties, thus sustaining the growing conviction that here is to be a big shakeup in the ministry, and a new cabinet formed.

H. B. WARNER IN "ALIAS JIMMY VALENTINE"

The attraction to be presented next week commencing Monday, May 24th by the Loneragon Players who have already so firmly entrenched themselves as a popular factor in Boston theatricals with their summer star stock season at Majestic Theatre, will be H. B. Warner in his original stellar role of Jimmy Valentine in Paul Armstrong's notable success "Alias Jimmy Valentine."

Many will remember O. Henry's story upon which the play is founded. Jimmy is a bank burglar able to solve safe combinations by his wonderful sensitiveness of touch. Convicted on the testimony of the revengeful pal, he is sent to Sing Sing. A pardon comes to him through the intercession of the girl he once defended on a train with her uncle, the state's lieutenant governor. Further, she persuades her father, a bank president, to employ him. From the first it is clear that she loves him, has loved him since first sight. Menaced by a detective, who has worked up an old case against him, Jimmy throws away protection secured through satisfying the

RAILROAD BILL PASSES HOUSE

Bay State Amendments Cover Dividends and Purchase of Supplies.

Boston, May 18.—A Boston & Maine reorganization and consolidation bill, which had already been approved by the senate, passed the house today by a vote of 173 to 79, with three important amendments. It is expected that the senate will concur in these amendments later in the week and that the measure will reach the governor within the next seven days.

The first amendment provides that the Public Service Commission shall have supervision of the proposed consolidation of the Hampden railroad with the Boston and Maine. The second requires that in order for the bonds of the Boston and Maine to become a legal investment for savings banks the company must earn as well as pay four per cent dividends on the stock. The third prohibits the Boston and Maine from purchasing supplies from any company in which one of its own directors is a director.

PEABODY OFFICIAL MAY GO FREE; GIRL FAILS TO APPEAR

Peabody, May 18.—Because Esther Burbeck and her mother failed to appear in court here today, although summoned as witnesses, the case of Natl Buxton, inspector of wires here, who is charged with enticing Miss Burbeck from her home for immoral purposes, was continued to Thursday of next week.

When the case was called, it was found that neither mother or daughter was in court, or at home, and it was said they had left town. Buxton's counsel, S. Howard Donnell, announced he had summoned them and was at a loss to explain why they did not appear. He asked for the continuance which was agreed to by Police Chief Grady.

It is believed certain that without the testimony of the Burbeck girl and her mother the case against Buxton will have to be dropped.

THIEVES BUSY AT UNION

Get Away With More Than $400 Worth of Automobile Tires From a Garage.

The garage of I. H. Atherton of Union was visited by thieves evidently anticipating an immediate entrance into the wholesale business as the Dover police officials have been notified of the larceny on Monday night of more than $400 worth of tires and inner tubes from the garage. Assistance of the Dover police was solicited when the manager of the garage returned to his place of business and discovered that one of the windows of the garage had been completely removed and the thieves had proceeded to take every tire and inner tube in sight. They did not appear satisfied to take the new merchandise but also carried away with them several which had been left at the garage by citizens for repairs. As far as can be learned all that the men took from the tires as everything else remained undisturbed with the exception of a quantity of gasoline which was in a container at the establishment.

The fact that the thieves took the gasoline and such a large quantity of tires leads the officers to believe that the parties had an automobile which they utilized in their business. The residents in the vicinity of the garage have no recollections of any disturbance or annoyance as a consequence of the breaking of the glass and no strange machines nor automobiles of any kind were observed in the vicinity. The three stolen were picked up by the Dover police and taken to the Dover police station and if anyone should make an attempt to dispose of tires in this vicinity the police will appreciate notification of the same and will take action to investigate at once.

LODGE TALKS ON FOREIGN POLICY

Says He Will Not Consider Party in Acting for Best Results.

Wyan, Mass., May 18.—United States Senator Henry Cabot Lodge, senior member of the foreign relations committee told a large crowd who welcomed him home tonight that on all matters of foreign policy he would act for what he considered the best interests of the country, without regard to party.

During his long career in Washington, he said he had supported two Democratic Presidents on matters of foreign policy which were of great moment, and on more than one occasion he had felt obliged to differ with the foreign policy of leaders of his own party.

He added that the present was not the time to discuss public questions of our foreign relations.

Palliating Crime.

All are familiar with the tendency of the present time to attribute crime to almost everything but deliberate criminal intent. When brought before the courts criminals, aided in many cases by cunning and unscrupulous counsel, attempt to take shelter behind claims of insanity, feeble-mindedness, drunkenness or something else to shield them from the just consequences of their acts. This practice is encouraged by the general wave of so-called reform and a sentimentality on the part of well-meaning people which are rendering the enforcement of law and the adequate punishment of crime more difficult than they ought to be.

In speaking of the practical abolition of corporal punishment the sheriffs of a populous county said a few days ago that in his opinion the absence of the old-fashioned plan of spanking children for disobedience is responsible for bringing many cases of juvenile delinquency before the courts. He is also convinced that the lack of corporal punishment when needed fosters contempt for law later in life.

There is little doubt that this is a correct view. No one would advocate the indiscriminate or harsh punishment of children, but if they were more generally trained to understand that they must implicitly obey their parents and teachers they would be better citizens.

But the same official who thinks that abstention from corporal punishment for children has been carried too far falls into the error so common today, that of attributing crime to something besides criminal intent. He believes that many so-called criminals are merely feeble-minded and that they should be cared for in institutions for such, rather than in jails. Another official asserts that drunkenness is responsible for 85 per cent of all crime, and by such reasoning as this the commission of actual crime is sifted down to almost nothing.

This is a dangerous drift. There are such things as crime and criminals, and it will not do to shut our eyes to the fact if the laws are to be properly enforced and society adequately protected. Sentimentality must give way to the calm recognition of plain facts and criminals must be dealt with in a manner to make it plain that the way of the transgressor is hard. Right-minded people are not calling for undue harshness in the treatment of those who violate the laws, but they are firing of the tendency to shield criminals from the consequences of their acts by attributing those acts to anything but criminal design. It is time to look facts in the face and correct a practice that is carrying us in the wrong direction.

All Up For Portsmouth.

This newspaper has taken pleasure in doing its share towards boosting Portsmouth. It has allowed nothing to stand in its way to further the interests of the Portsmouth Navy Yard. It makes no difference to this newspaper what political party is in power—it offers every encouragement to those at the head that labor honestly and fairly for the Portsmouth Navy Yard. It sees a great future for the yard and it behooves every citizen in Portsmouth and vicinity to do his part for the yard in every way possible. Let the men employed on the submarine give the best there is in them and there will be more submarines to build.

It is given out on what is claimed to be the best of authority, that the motive behind the photo-play, "The Birth of a Nation," which has made a decided stir in many parts of the country, was to lead to the deportation of all negroes, leaving this country strictly in the hands of white men. It was indeed an ambitious undertaking and one that will fall very short of its mark. The negro is here to stay.

The captain of the Transylvania says he saw no submarines while the news dispatches print sensational stories about her being chased. It is well for the public to take some of this war dope with a grain of salt. Germany is accused of all sorts of crimes every day that are denied the next day. England controls the news reports as well as the seas.

The Panama canal zone has its full share of hard luck. In addition to the landslides Colon has been swept by a fire doing damage of more than $3,000,000 and costing eleven lives. But the canal is there and destined to do a great work for the world.

President Wilson has demonstrated one thing. He can travel more quietly and with less fuss and feathers than any other recent president of the United States.

Why not refer the settlement of the European war to the Mayor of Boston and his All-Boston publicity staff?

Ex-Secretary Meyer and "Gussie" Gardner are being severely condemned for their anti-preparedness talk.

From all accounts both Barnes and Roosevelt should be excluded from all political parties.

The old time office holders in Concord are all coming back!

Uncle Sam's Boys Taking Things Easy on Dreadnought Before the Fleet Review

In the accompanying illustration several of the sailors of the super-Dreadnought New York are seen on the deck of the big fighting machine playing cards. Several millions of people viewed the Atlantic fleet during its recent stay in New York harbor. On all sides were heard words of admiration for the appearance and apparent readiness of Uncle Sam's navy for any eventuality that might present itself.

NEW ENGLAND MAY ESCAPE COLD WAVE

Heavy Snow Storms in Wisconsin and Nebraska.

The expected cold wave, concerning which there has been much apprehension here for the past 24 hours, will probably not materialize in this vicinity after all, the forecast for today calling for fair weather with moderate to variable winds and little change in temperature. The mercury will probably go as high as sixty, which was the maximum reading here.

The disturbance which caused rain on Monday and general cloudiness yesterday has passed down the St. Lawrence Valley, but another storm, central last night over Texas, is expected to cause increasing cloudiness here by tomorrow, with occasional showers. The winds will continue to be variable.

One of the heaviest snowstorms of the season prevailed in Wisconsin on Monday night, and probably aided in saving part of the crops. In addition to the strawberries, it is thought the entire apple crop is ruined.

The western part of Nebraska was covered with a blanket of snow several inches deep Tuesday. It began falling early in the morning and late that afternoon with a high northeast wind blowing, the storm assumed the proportions of a blizzard. Street kiosks here registered 35 degrees above zero, the coldest May weather in years.

MORE REPORTS.

One Lawyer Gets $3,600 for His Work.

Additional reports show the following amounts received by attorneys as legislative agents during the last session at Concord:

Edwin P. Jones of Manchester received $3600 for his work. An interesting item in his returns is that of $100 paid him by the Manchester Water Commission, to encompass the defeat of the bill reducing the hydrant cost to the City of Manchester. Mr. Jones received $1600 from the Amoskeag Manufacturing Company, $1200 from the Manchester Traction Light and Power Company, $500 from the James W. Hill Company, $100 from the New Hampshire Fire Insurance Company and $75 from St. Mary's Co-operative Credit Company.

DOG STEALS EGGS.

Carries Home Dozen Each Day From Various Hen Coops.

A resident of Kittery Point says he has no cause to tip his hat to the blith man who claims that sculpins along the banks of the Piscataqua are enjoying chicken menues, on the other hand, he is due for a box of submission from the Sculpin Pointer. The Kittery Pointer is the proud owner of a shepherd dog who has also taken to chicken coops, but Carlo is not out for broilers. This Barker wants, bird fruit only and he gets it at the rate of a dozen or more eggs a day.

One of the townspeople reports to the owner of the canine that it is almost impossible to keep his eggs since Carlo began his daily collections and he believes that the animal is wise in the laying time of his silver wyandottes as he is on hand to search the nests before the eggs are cool. The collections from the various coops are carried carefully home and deposited at the door of his owner's dwelling. If his master happens to be away, he makes his delivery to a grocery store near Hutchins' Corner, and has never been known to break a single egg. Even the glass eggs go with the rest.

It is certain that Carlo is a valuable member of the family and his owner has no reason to hesitate handing over the required dog tax when the collector makes his annual visit every May.

DO YOU FLUB? PULL? SLICE?

Good golf takes more than a good eye and a sure aim. One must have the right club in hand at the right time. It must balance to the nicety of a hair; it must swing true as a plumb line. Choosing the club means first of all finding the correct store. And the starting point in your journey is the advertising in this paper. That tells you where to go.

NAME LOCATION OF PISCATAQUA BUOYS

The lighthouse department has forwarded from Washington a list of buoys which will be established in the Piscataqua river above the Portsmouth-Kittery bridge and in Great Bay and Little Bay about June 11. The buoys in the river will be as follows:

Must Cove buoy No. 2, in about seven fathoms of water; 12 foot rock buoy, No. 3, in about four fathoms, to mark rock just below entrance to Little Bay; lower middle ground buoy, No. 4, to mark lower end of first middle ground above bridge; upper middle ground buoy No. 5 in about 2 1-2 fathoms to mark lower end of second middle ground above bridge; Starry Flats buoy, No. 6, in about 4 fathoms, to mark flats at entrance to Stacy creek; brickyard buoy, No. 7, in about 4 fathoms to mark westerly edge of channel opposite brickyards; Sturgeon creek buoy, No. 8, in about 2 1-2 fathoms to mark flats making off from entrance to Sturgeon Creek; West Flats buoy No. 9, in about 2 1-2 fathoms to mark flats on westerly shore just above Sturgeon Creek.

In Little Bay the buoys will be as follows: Eight foot rock buoy, No. 1, in about five fathoms, to mark rock in elbow of bay off Fox Point; rock buoy No. 4, in about 6 fathoms, to mark rocks in main channel. One buoy will be placed in Great Bay, as follows: Entrance buoy, in about 2 1-2 fathoms, to mark southerly edge of channel to Newmarket and Exeter. These are the first buoys ever established by the government above the Portsmouth-Kittery bridge.

CURRENT OPINION

Sex Discrimination the Only Obstacle to Universal Suffrage.

I believe that a majority of the women of this state want the vote. And, further, I think there is no doubt that they will eventually get it. I know of no sound argument against the justice of the proposition to admit women to participation in our public affairs. Today sex discrimination is the only obstacle to universal suffrage in this country.

I do not believe that the broadening of the electoral power which will come with the adoption of the amendment will work any monumental government reforms, but I do favor any act that will bring about a complete representation in government and a widening of responsibility.

I shall vote for the constitutional amendment giving the vote to women when the question is submitted to the people in November.—By John Purroy Mitchell, Mayor of New York City.

team which has afforded the men at the Barracks a great deal of amusement.

Apparently Manager Taylor is laboring under a delusion as to the real state of affairs at the Barracks. In the interview mentioned he intimates that the Barracks team is not classy enough to cross bats with the Prison nine, and he refused to play them until they have a record. These remarks are absurd when considered in the light of the fact that there has been at no time this season an organized baseball team at this Post, and that no authorized person in this command ever requested or challenged the Prison nine to play a game. Manager Taylor will make a record for himself if he continues to publicly refuse to play an unskilled for game with a non-existent team.

The men here, having no team of their own to support are heart and soul with the Prison in their race for honors in the Sunset League. At the opening game of the men off duty went to Portsmouth to root and encourage the Prison nine by their presence. Last Sunday a Barracks man pitched them to victory against the strong Independent team of Portsmouth. Anything we can do to aid them we will do. Prison or Barracks we are all of the "Corps."

In view of these facts, the Barracks men feel that the steady stream of criticism directed at them through the columns of the press is unwarranted and uncalled for.

PANORAMIC VIEW OF MOUNT RANIER NATIONAL PARK

A panoramic view of Mount Ranier National Park showing the characteristic features of the landscape. This has just been issued by direction of Secretary Lane. This panorama shows in a striking manner the great central ice mass and the ridges that surround it. Ten colors were used in the printing, the ice being shown in light blue, the meadows and valleys in light green, the streams and lakes in blue, the cliffs and ridges in combinations of colors, and the roads in light brown. The lettering is printed in light brown which is easily read. On close inspection, but which merges into the basic colors when the sheet is held at some distance. This view, which may be purchased from the Superintendent of Documents, Government Printing Office, Washington, D. C., for 25c, measures 19 by 20 inches, and is on the scale of one mile to the inch. It is based on accurate surveys and gives an excellent idea of the configuration of the surface as it would appear to a person moving over it in an aeroplane.

EXETER MAN NEAR DEATH

Gilbert French in Contact
With 4,400 Volts of Electricity.

Exeter, May 18.—Gilbert French, an employe of the Exeter and Hampton Electric Company, lies at the Cottage hospital tonight close to death, as the result of having 4,400 volts of electricity sent through his body.

French was working with George Carleton of Hampton about twenty feet above the sidewalk. In some manner he came into contact with a live wire heavily charged and the full voltage was sent through his body. He toppled over and was held from falling for some moments by his companion, who at last was forced to allow him to relax. By that time spectators had gathered and although a blanket was stretched, it broke French's fall but little.

Errors of living, among which coffee-drinking is one of the most common, has stirred the New York Health Department to prepare a booklet of suggestions for indoor workers, and among other wise bits of advice this booklet says:

"Bracers are harmful. This applies to the use of tea, coffee and alcoholic beverages."

Sound advice!

All over America, for years, coffee drinkers, indoor and out, prompted by their own feelings and enlightened by science, have gotten rid of coffee troubles by changing to

Postum, made of choicest wheat and a small portion of wholesome molasses, tastes much like the finest Java, yet contains no caffeine (the harmful drug in coffee) nor any other harmful element.

Postum comes in two forms:

Postum Cereal—the original form—must be well boiled, 15c and 25c packages.

Instant Postum—the soluble form—is prepared in the cup. A teaspoonful in a cup of hot water makes a delicious drink instantly. 30c and 50c tins.

Both kinds are equally delicious, and the cost per cup is about the same.

SAYS SHE WAS TRICKED IN MARRIAGE

Husband Was Paid Money for Bringing Young Girls to This City.

Marie C. Williamson, an attractive blonde of 18 summers told a sensation of her marriage at 17 to Judge Jenney in the Suffolk County divorce court in Boston on Tuesday. She testified that she was just out of school and had been led into a marriage with Harry Adams, who is also said to have been known as Burns, Ferris and by other aliases.

In her petition for annulment, she declares that he represented himself to belong to the white race, when as a matter of fact he is of negro blood. Another witness called in behalf of the girl declared that she had known Adams or Ferris and never knew him to have any occupation, but said that he was a "cadet," and that she had seen him handed a sum of money in a house in Portsmouth, N. H., by a woman for bringing two girls to that city.

From the evidence it appeared that Adams, then known by that name to Miss Williamson and her mother, who kept a rooming house in Thomas Park, South Boston, had commenced to room with them in September, 1913. The daughter denied that she had kept company with Ferris or Adams, as he was then known, and had only seen him as he came in and went out of the house.

She had been in the moving picture shows with him it was admitted, however. On the night in question, July 3, 1914, she testified that he asked her to take a walk with him and that when they got out into the street he took her to the office of Matthew C. Peters, a justice of the peace with power to perform the marriage ceremony. The girl said that when she got into the office she did not know what it was all about; that nothing was read to her and that no papers were shown to her.

On cross examination she recalled that she was shown the marriage license and recognized her signature that was affixed to it.

After the ceremony he tried to induce her to go with him but she had refused and demanded to be taken home to her mother.

The mother testified that the first she knew of the marriage was when she received a telephone call from Adams who appeared rather excited, and informed her, "Marie is with me."

"What is she doing with you," the mother said was her next response. Adams then swore she said, and said, "If you'll keep quiet I'll tell you. We've been married. When you are more quiet I'll talk to you."

The mother then testified "I went out to meet them. Two boys had told me they had seen Marie with Adams near the drug store and that she was crying. I found them and Marie was crying."

"What did Harry do?" she was asked. "He tried to get the girl away from me by force," Mrs. Williamson stated. She said that she took Marie home with her in spite of the objections of Adams and that so far as she knows he has never seen her since up to the time the case was called in court.

THAT FISHING TRIP

Conductors George A. Silsbee and E. N. Roberts of the Boston and Maine passenger service are on a fishing trip in the wilds of Maine. Silsbee holds a record for big fresh water catches. There is hardly a brook or stream in the Pine Tree State that is not known to him, and trout and black bass will be the menu on the dining room tables of more than one railroad man when "Abner" gets through hooking them up. Besides this the Knights of the Punch numbered among his daily associates will naturally look for that long promised banquet at one of the leading Boston hotels. While they are pleased to know that the Major and "Abner" are enjoying themselves in the woods, they are anxious for their return in order that they can assemble at the festive board and do justice to the feed.

TRAGIC DEATH OF A BOY

Unintentionally Hangs Himself to a Tree.

The body of Ludger Bellevue, aged 13, was discovered hanging from a sapling in the woods near the home of an aunt at Center Lebanon.

The boy had been missing since Sunday night. Coroner L. A. Hurd of Sanford decided it was a case of accidental death by hanging. Young Bellevue had evidently attempted to enact a thriller described in a magazine he had been reading. He had wound a strip of burlap around his neck inside the noose of an improvised hangman's rope, climbed a small tree and after attaching the rope swung off. He had miscalculated the pliability of the tree or length of the rope. When found his body hung with the feet nearly touching the ground. Death had been produced by strangulation.

The boy was a son of Louis Bellevue of Somersworth, N. H., and the body was taken to Somersworth.

PORTSMOUTH THEATRE (MUSIC HALL) F. W. HARTFORD, Manager.

For Wednesday Matinee and Night and Thursday Matinee Only

For these performances our feature picture will be "Children of the Ghetto" in 5 parts

In this wonderful production, Wilton Lackaye is cast in the principal part, that of "Rob Shemuel," a character that will live as long as literature or the drama exist.

Mr. Lackaye brings to the fold pre-eminent ability, a reputation as the greatest character actor on the stage, and a depth of emotional appeal and human understanding, that will warm the coldest heart. The story is woven about the life of Rabbi Samuel Jacobs, a sternly religious old patriarch who insists that the customs of his forefathers be observed by his grown up son and daughter.

Changing conditions have affected the young people, however, and affairs, other than spiritual, occupy their time and fill their lives. The first blow falls when his son leaves home to become an actor. Threats and denunciations are of no avail, the youth goes his own way, and after a short career of dissipation comes to a violent end in a cabaret brawl. Still other sorrows are in store for the patriarch.

His daughter marries a man forbidden to her according to the rabbinical law. Then his wife, his beloved Rachel dies, and he is left alone, the burden of his years heavy upon him. In solitude he performs the rites and duties of his faith, while he lives over again the happy years of the past and awaits his final release from a world of sorrows. But life cannot be all bitterness. Fate has some hours of happiness left for "Rob Shemuel."

His daughter, a widow now with two little children, returns to his home. Silently they steal into the room and gather at the table where the old man, with bowed head, is praying, and when he lifts his eyes, "Lo!—the void in his life has been filled and he finds peace and happiness after his many tribulations.

Vaudeville will be on also. Four acts. Our double picture for Thursday evening will be "A Woman Went Forth"—Lubin.

ABUSE OF CHARITIES IN FRANCE

(Paris, May 18.—The Matin publishes extraordinary facts and figures resulting from the police investigation into the charitable organizations instituted in Paris since the outbreak of the war. The inquiry was initiated as the result of numerous complaints which reached the judicial authorities that certain so-called charitable works with high sounding names, were exploiting public generosity for base personal ends.

A report recently handed into M. Mouton, director of the judicial police, gives 137 as the number of societies which have sprung into existence in the department of the Seine alone since the beginning of the war.

Of these, less than a half—71, have after careful inquiry, have been recognized as above suspicion. The remaining 26 are to be the object of further severe investigation.

The inquiry has established that the founders of thirty-five of the sus-which the society were shady financiers many of whom had served terms of imprisonment for fraud; all of whom had before the war, or were having trouble with the law of the country.

One "pious founder" had eleven convictions to his single credit. Almost the patronesses of these organizations were women whose names had many years ago been notorious in the half-world of Paris, but who of late years had sunk into obscurity and indigence. Especially was the attention of the police drawn to the sudden affluence of two such patronesses.

It was established that there is before the war, they were in most humble circumstances; they now have each her private residence in Paris and a villa in the suburbs. Further investigation proved that for close on to eight months the net taking of their organizations were never less than $200 per day which sum in its entirety went into their pockets. The gains of another woman are proved to have been twice as great or about $400 per day.

More astounding still the police have discovered among the founders and patronesses, Germans and Austrians who had escaped from concentration camps and returned to Paris. Among them is an Austrian adventurer, who under a borrowed French title has been widely photographed in a nurse's uniform and has successfully imposed on several highly placed people.

The doubtful charities fall into two classes. First, the frankly commercial society, which takes out its patents in due form, but pretends to devote the proceeds of the sale of its goods to definite or indefinite charities. The goods, consisting of plaster busts, articles of clothing, knive-knives of all kinds, are of course sold at a price a hundred times their value, a price

ITALY'S DECLARATION OF WAR WAITS PARLIAMENT

Members Will Be Asked to Vote Only on Bill Giving Government Plenary Power Regarding Hostilities Against Austria

Rome, May 18.—The Italian Parliament will be asked Thursday to vote only on a bill containing a single clause conferring plenary powers on the government, according to the Giornale d'Italia. Declaration of war is not expected until after that time unless Austria makes the first move, which is considered unlikely in view of the pacific speeches made in the Hungarian Diet.

Alarmist rumors of all kinds are being circulated in Rome. One report circulated today was to the effect that Prince von Buelow, the German ambassador, already had left the city secretly. It was unfounded, although a special train is kept in readiness to carry him to St. Gothard if a break comes, as he is understood to have expressed a wish to return to Berlin by way of Switzerland. Another special stands with steam up ready to speed for the Austrian frontier by way of Verona and Brenner, with Baron von Maccio, the Austrian ambassador and his staff.

Confers with Briton
Foreign Minister Bonino conferred at length this forenoon with the British ambassador and the Roumanian minister.

Former Premier Giolitti started today for his home in the village of Canave, accompanied only by his son-in-law, Deputy Chiaravigne. Before leaving he expressed to friends the hope that he would be able to show that he has been misunderstood and urgently desires the successful maintenance of the honor of the Fatherland to which the remainder of his life's efforts will be devoted.

The cabinet council today was one of the longest on record. At its close a brief communication was issued stating that the ministerial discussion of the statement to be made before Parliament. No further information was given as to what action was taken.

King Meets Official
King Victor Emmanuel spent the entire day in granting audiences to government officials and in the consideration of military and political questions.

The general staff continues its preparations for eventualities.
There were further demonstrations of rejoicing throughout Italy at the solution of the ministerial crisis. In Rome, a great crowd climbed the Capitoline Hill to listen to a fiery address by Gabriele d'Annunzio, who was carried thither on the shoulders of the people. He declared war was sacred, purifying and exalting. The enthusiasm was increased by an address by Prince Colonna, mayor of Rome, in which he emphasizes the necessity for Italy to participate in the war.

In an article summarizing the situation the Tribune says:
"The die is cast. The Rubicon is crossed, and the Triple Alliance has been denounced."

Record of Government Saving Banks is Still Further Extended.

Every person in the United States ten years old or over, may open an account in a postal savings bank after July 1st, according to an instructive leaflet on the postal savings system just issued by Postmaster-General Burleson. This important extension of the service will be made possible by permitting persons living in communities so sparsely settled as not to justify the designation of their local post offices as regular postal savings banks, to open accounts by mail.

Governor Dockery, third assistant postmaster-general, who has direct supervision of postal savings, was so impressed by appeals from all over the country to open postal savings accounts by mail, that he took up the task some weeks ago of working out a feasible and safe method for meeting a demand well illustrated in a letter from a Saline County Missourian, who resides many miles from a postal savings bank:

"Having a few hundred dollars saved from fifty years of hard and assiduous labor and skimping economy on the part of my wife and myself, we concluded to deposit it in the postal savings bank of—. We wrote to the postmaster at that place and received reply to the effect that none but patrons of that office could deposit in that office which is very disappointing news to us. Our little fund is not large enough to support us and land is so high that it is impossible for us to buy more with what little we have saved, and we are so old that we can't labor much now and we would be so glad to lay by at least enough to put us away in decency."

Under the plan adopted by the postmaster general for opening accounts by mail, an intending depositor, residing where there is no regularly designated postal savings bank, will apply to his local postmaster, who will see that necessary identification data is prepared and forwarded to a nearby postoffice, authorized to accept deposits. The intending depositor will then be given permission to forward his first and subsequent deposits by money order or registered mail direct to the postmaster at the banking point for which receipts or certificates will be issued. He may withdraw all or any part of his postal savings by mail and on demand together with any interest that may be due him.

The new leaflet points out that any person ten years old or over may open an account in his or her own name, that an account may be opened by a married woman free from any control or interference by her husband; that postoffice officials are forbidden to disclose to any person except the depositor the amount of any deposits; that withdrawals may be made without previous notice; and that the government guarantees to repay all deposits on demand with accrued interest.

The leaflet will soon be printed in 22 foreign languages for distribution through local postoffices. The foreign-born citizen has taken very kindly to postal savings and literature in his own language will be of great assistance to him. In a recent article, Postmaster-General Burleson commented on the foreign-born depositors as follows:

"Upwards of 500,000 depositors now have accounts in the postal savings system, and they represent every nationality on earth. They also represent almost every known occupation—professionals, men, theatrical people, mechanics, laborers, fishermen, pack peddlers, etc. But the majority are wage-earners, and of this class the foreign-born largely predominate. A census of depositors taken by the postoffice department shows that approximately 40 per cent (400,000) of the depositors are more than 30 per cent of the depositors—splendid evidence of the confidence of our newly acquired citizens in the ability and good faith of their adopted country to fulfill its obligations."

"There is another reason which led immigrants, unfamiliar with our language and business methods, to turn to the government to safeguard their humble savings and that reason is the disastrous experiences many of them have had by the failures of bogus 'private banks' offered by swindlers of their own tongue who have preyed mercilessly upon their loneliness and credulity."

Postal savings receipts have broken all records the past year. During the eight months prior to April 1st, there was a net gain in deposits of $18,000,000, as against a gain of $8,000,000 for the same months the year before. Thousands of new accounts have been opened and the millions made up largely of hidden savings, have been turned back into the channels of trade just at a time when there was pressing demand for every dollar.

ASSASSIN PLOT ON TURKISH WAR PARTY CONFIRMED

Paris, May 18.—Reports from Constantinople confirm the discovery of a plot organized by Armenians and Kurds opposed to the new regime to assassinate the Sultan, Enver Pasha, and Marshal von der Goltz and General Liman von Sanders, telegraphs the Journal's Athens correspondent.

Two Armenians, the report says, were to have blown up the Kara-Kul bridge connecting Stambul and Gata, on the Sultan's birthday, while the ruler, accompanied by his command, was crossing to attend a ceremony at the Mosque of St. Sophia. The plot is said to have been revealed by a son of Zoghraff Effendi, an Armenian deputy of Constantinople.

The correspondent declares 400 Armenians have been arrested and that their fate is unknown, while Kurds have been given orders to burn two large villages near Van.

NATIONAL DEFENCE OFFICIAL INDORSES WILSON'S COURSE

Washington, May 18.—At National Defence League headquarters here the following telegram was received today from Senator Broussard, the league's vice-chairman, at his home in New Iberia, La.

"The present situation emphasizes conditions in this country to which the National Defence League has persistently called attention for years. The strained relations existing certainly cause every thoughtful and patriotic citizen to inquire if we are prepared to meet this situation. There can be no question of the sincere desire of the American people to be at peace with the world, no worthy American citizen would wish his country otherwise than neutral.

"At the same time American property, American life and American freedom to travel the high seas must be respected.

"The President's note has the true American ring and the principles announced, if carried out, will find universal response in the heart of America. Are we prepared to give the President that support to which the great cause he represents entitles him?

"We applaud his attitude; we say it is typically American. We are proud of it, because we know it is right; but have we in the past done all that devolved upon us to place the President in a position to maintain this righteous position? I leave this to be answered by each individual citizen. Let us hope, as I sincerely hope, that we will not be called upon to use other measures than the moral sanction to enforce the right we assert.

"But let this be a lesson to us that preparedness shall be the keynote of our future policy. If some are tempted to question our just position it will be due essentially to the world knowledge of our unpreparedness. An adequate navy should be our first concern and our unalterable policy."

Loss of the measure are practically agreed that every day of this week will be devoted to one branch or the other to this most important railroad bill. Both sides are confident of victory, but students of legislative procedure predict even now that ultimately the bill will be passed and sent to Governor Walsh. The bill which has passed the senate came up yesterday in the house on the emergency stage. While a host of amendments have been offered, the real fight is expected to center about section 18, the Hampton railroad clause. An attempt will be made in both branches to strike out this section entirely. Its elimination would involve the railroads in litigation and many difficulties. For the benefit of readers section 18 is reprinted:

Section 18. The Boston and Maine railroad is authorized to purchase and the Hampton Railroad Corporation is authorized to sell, all the property and franchises of the Hampton Railroad Corporation, and the Boston and Maine railroad may pay for the same by assuming the outstanding indebtedness of the Hampton Railroad Corporation so far as said indebtedness may be determined as valid by the Public Service Commission, and by delivering to the Hampton Railroad Corporation in payment of the balance of the purchase price preferred stock of the Boston and Maine railroad; provided, that the amount of such preferred stock so to be delivered may equal, but shall not exceed the reasonable and proper cost incurred in the construction of the road of the Hampton Railroad Corporation at the date of purchase as may be determined by the Public Service Commission after deducting therefrom the face amount of the indebtedness so far assumed, and provided that the interest on the indebtedness so assumed and the dividends on the said preferred stock shall not exceed five per cent per annum on the cost so determined. No such purchase and sale shall be effective unless authorized by the respective boards of directors and by at least two-thirds in interest of the stockholders of each of the prospective corporations at meetings duly called and held for that purpose, and unless the terms thereof are approved by the Public Service Commission as being within the authority conferred by this act.

It is expected that the senate will make amendments, thus necessitating returning the bill to the senate for concurrent action, and thus reopening the contest in the upper branch of the legislature. It is a question whether there will not be more or less haggling over agreeing to the amendments.

The final blow almost to the Economy and Efficiency Commission has been delivered by the house committee on Fisheries and Game reported to the senate reference to the next general court on their recommendation that the Board of Fisheries and Game be abolished. There was not a single dissenter on the report.

The Buttrick front of the state house is about to receive a coat of real white paint to take the place of that muddy gray battleship color. The two buildings, the wing and the original engine on the train of cars, will now match and at the same time the white of peace will aid the neutrality of the state, where the gray spoke war.

The veto of the liquor transportation bill by Governor Walsh is a sure sign that he is a candidate for the office next year, said an astute political observer at the state house the other day. Many agreed with him on this point.

The New England Congress of the Salvation Army opens in Boston Wednesday and continues to Sunday. The opening session will be in People's Temple when Colonel and Mrs. Gifford will welcome the guests at 8 p. m.

Thursday there will be sessions in People's Palace with a reception to Commander Miss Booth at 7 p. m. The session in People's Temple continues on Friday. On Saturday there will be a grand street parade of 2000 Salvationists. There will be ten bands in line and the march will be from People's Temple to Boston Common where they will be special exercises. There will be a concert by 250 musicians at the Parkman bandstand. District meetings will be held throughout the city in the evening and on Sunday.

DISPATCHES REPORT AMERICANS SAFE

THEY CONCENTRATE WITHIN REACH OF COAST—YAGUIS HAVE WITHDRAWN TO OTHER FIELDS

Washington, May 18.—Immediate fears for the safety of sixty-five or more American settlers in the Yaqui Valley, Mexico, where Yaqui Indians are on the warpath, have been relieved by advices to the State and Navy departments. The Americans, the reports said, had concentrated at Yaqui Pueblo, on the railway within reach of the coast, but for the present they were waiting and hoping for restoration of order. A message from General Sosa, Villa commander in the Yaqui region, said the Yaquis who had been attacking Yaqui Pueblo, an old settlement where the Americans had concentrated, had withdrawn and now were menacing a small party of Mexican soldiers at Becum. Colonel Becum, with two hundred soldiers, was proceeding to Yaqui Pueblo to escort the Americans to Pundelion or Tabarabay, where they could be picked up by cruisers of the Pacific fleet.

"It is said," a State Department summary stated, "that this arrangement was made in order to give the colonists an opportunity to leave the valley in comparative safety. It is reported that the losses suffered in the present raid are heavy and that until a permanent garrison is established in the valley, there will be danger of the destruction of American property."

"On May 15, the manager of the Richardson Construction Company at Guaymas telegraphed the American consul at Nogales that William Stocker, who was wounded in the recent fighting with the Yaquis, has been sent to Empalme; that the bodies of Donovan, Wilson and Ray have been found and that there have been no further casualties among the Americans reported."

"Consul Simplich states that from all he can learn, the situation seems temporarily improved, although Indians still control practically the whole region from Lencho to San Blas in Sonora. Officials of the United States Company, have informed Consul Simplich that one of the American employees of the company was killed lately by Mayo Indians, with bows and arrows. The Consul Simplich states that American travelers should be advised of the turbulent conditions prevailing in Sonora and warned to refrain from entering the state."

"A report May 16 from Hermosillo states that the Yaquis have attacked a train sent out from Tacolacora, killing the engineer and several others."

ARGUMENTS IN THE RIGGS BANK CASE

Washington, May 18.—Arguments on the legal phases of the injunction suit brought by the Riggs National bank against Secretary McAdoo, Comptroller Williams and John Burke, treasurer of the United States, who are charged by the bank with conspiring to wreck it, were continued today in the supreme court of the District of Columbia.

Frank J. Hogan of counsel for the bank resumed his argument in opposition to motions of government counsel, that the proceedings be dismissed for lack of jurisdiction. Arguments on questions of law probably will not be concluded before the close of tomorrow's session of the court. If the court should overrule the motions to dismiss, the defendant officials then would have to show cause why they should not be permanently enjoined from continuing the alleged unlawful interference with the bank.

CASTRO ACTS AS PREMIER

NEW POWERS IN PORTUGAL ANNOUNCE CABINET

Lisbon, May 18.—A new Portuguese cabinet was definitely formed today. It is composed as follows:

Minister of Interior and President of the Council during the illness of Joao Chagas—Jose Castro.

Minister of Finance, Barros Queiroz.

Minister of Justice, Paulo Falco.

Minister of Foreign Affairs, Tezozza Queiroz.

Minister of Colonies, Jorge Pereira.

Minister of Public Works, Manuel Monteiro.

Minister of Marine, Fernandez Costa.

Minister of Public Instruction, Magalhães Lima.

Improvement is shown in the condition of Joao Chagas, the new president of the cabinet, who was shot and dangerously wounded by Senator Freitas. Examination showed that a bullet entered the forehead and came out near the right parietal bone. Senator Chagas may lose the sight of his right eye. He was shot four times with a pistol while on board the midnight train from Oporto. Freitas was slain at the Entrocamento railway station by a soldier who witnessed the attack upon Senator Chagas. By his action the soldier forestalled an assault upon Freitas by civilians who were clamoring for his life. It was Freitas who led the attack in the Senate against Alfonso Costa's party in the parliamentary conflict last year. It is believed in some quarters that the bullets which struck Chagas were intended for Costa, who arrived at Lisbon earlier in the day.

Lisbon newspapers state that General Pimenta Castro, the former president of the cabinet, declared that when the revolutionary movement broke out he offered the collective resignation of the ministry to President de Azevedo. It is added that General Castro assured the new cabinet of his loyalty.

Two hundred persons killed and five hundred wounded are the reported results of the fighting. Most of the killed and wounded belonged to the Republican Guard. Admiral Javier Brito has been imprisoned on a charge of having ordered the submarine Esperadito to sink the boats bombarding Lisbon.

The street department wagons are removing the large collection of ashes from the basement of city hall.

THE BALLOT-A MODERN LIFE-SAVING APPARATUS

There were 150 children under two years old on the Lusitania. There are in the United States 300,000 children every year who die before they are twelve months old. Fully half of these, Julia Lathrop says, die from preventable causes. The little victims who perished with the ill-fated ship are now beyond the reach of our help. The little victims who are perishing around us every day are within reach and could be saved. There is no reason in the nature of things why the United States should not have as low an infant death rate as New Zealand. Let us work harder than ever to secure that modern life-saving apparatus, the ballot!

CONFESSED HOLD-UP MAN WAS TAKEN TO BOSTON

John R. Meakin, Former Naval Prisoner Here, Identified By Fourteen Victims.

Boston's self-confessed "hold-up" man, charged with terrorizing and robbing night store keepers and wine merchants from February 4 to April 30, was brought from Hartford where he was shot in the back while attempting to escape, to Boston police headquarters by Inspectors Lynch and Burke Tuesday afternoon. He was confronted by the alleged victims of his exploits, including Patrolman Corcoran, who was shot while detailed to the Eagle Wine Company's store on Columbus avenue.

Meakin was identified by the man he is said to have held up and the police say he in turn recognized a number of the victims and called them by name. He expressed regret to Patrolman Corcoran at having shot and injured him, saying it was unintentional and due to his excitement at the time. On being asked by Capt. Armstrong why he had taken to crime he said:

"I never had a chance. I used to live in South Boston but my father sent me to Rainsford Island as a stubborn child in 1905, when I was 12 years old. Two years later I was taken there again for a boy's prank. There's nothing to this game at all."

While being identified at headquarters by clerks and store keepers, he admitted he had made two other unsuccessful attempts to rob Boston stores. One of these, the police say, was the wine store of H. F. Corcoran 11 East Third street, South Boston, where he ordered whisky and pointed a pistol at the clerk, but was frightened away by the entry of several customers. He escaped by a back window. The other is said to have been at the Amherst store at 88 Broadway, South Boston, on March 18. Meakin's capture is of interest to local people as it is due in a great measure to information supplied by the Portsmouth Police Department. Meakin was at one time a prisoner on the Southern and was given a dishonorable discharge from the navy at the Portsmouth navy yard after serving his sentence. After leaving this city he began his criminal career at once. While in the naval prison Meakin caused no trouble and after his discharge he did not attempt any crooked deals in this city.

Meakin was identified as the man who robbed the following places: Richardson and Company, 107 Beach street, Feb. 4, clerk Charles Hollander robbed of $50; Ryan Bros., 61 Oak street, Feb. 10; United Cigar Store, Federal street, Feb. 13, clerk Alexander Kane, robbed; Joseph Morlow and Company, 1227 Washington street, Feb. 26, clerk Richard V. Kearns, robbed; William B. Gallagher, Bedford street, March 8; August Thell and Company, March 12, clerk Otto Penn, robbed; Terminal Wine Company, March 16, clerk Peter J. McKenna, robbed; Eagle Wine Company, March 31; Colpitts Ticket Agency April 9; Jack Gelewitz shoe store, 215 Blue Hill avenue April 22; Santa Clara Wine Company, April 29.

In addition to confessing to having committed robberies at the places named above, the police say the prisoner confessed to three more, two of which up to the time he related his story to the police, they had no idea he had perpetrated.

He told them, the police claim, that on March 10, he entered the store of Guy Amherst, 88 Broadway, South Boston and at the point of his automatic revolver robbed the clerk; and that April 5 at 10.30 in the evening he attempted to rob the store of H. F. Corcoran 11th street, South Boston.
